KELLY HIGH SCHOOL

KELLY, KANSAS

VOLUME XVI
MAY, 1964

oreword

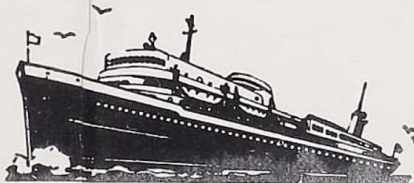

Kelly High School provides a heritage of learning and culture for each student who has the will and the ability to learn. We seniors, who have partaken of this storehouse of knowledge for the past four years, believe this. The character of any institution is manifested in its leaders. We have had good leaders. To all faculty members past and present and to the people who have made our present system of schooling possible we pay homage. We now present the Kelly Hi-Lites yearbook of 1964. In its pages we salute those who have been so dedicated to the cause of education. "And departing leave behind us footprints on the sands of Time."

dedication

hey braved the deep blue ocean and arrived on the shores of a land of opportunity, America. Filled with expectancy and hope they traveled west by schooner or train to seek the fulfillment of their dreams. The rolling prairies of Kansas beckoned them on. Kelly became their final destination and here they homesteaded and built their homes. Nor was God forgotten. The first church burned but was soon replaced by the beautiful edifice which now overlooks and blesses the homes and fields of their children's children. To the memory of these hardy pioneers and to our parents, who follow in the footsteps of their fathers, we dedicate this year book.

"Ask not what your country can do for you. Ask what you can do for your country."

"Courage is the universal virtue....Without belittling the courage with which men have died, we should not forget those acts of courage with which men...have lived."

"Let every nation know... that we shall pay any price, bear any burden, meet any hardship, support any friend, oppose any foe to assure the survival and success of liberty. This much we pledge and more."

"If we expect a nation to be ignorant and free, we expect what never was and never will be."

In the long history of the world, only a few generations have been granted the role of defending freedom in its hour of maximum danger. I do not shrink from this responsibility--I welcome it.

"Yet the death of President Kennedy thundered a mighty message that men must rid themselves of the bigotry and hatred that breeds such violence."

Rev. Ed A. Griffin

"With a good conscience our only sure reward, with history the final judge of our deeds, let us go forth to lead the land we love, asking His blessing and His help, but knowing that here on earth God's work must truly be our own."

"The people have lost 'a brother' in Christ. But let us not be unduly sad. The spirit of John F. Kennedy will live on."

He is dead, but on that grave in Arlington Cemetery, and in the hearts of millions, a new fire burns, lighting a better way. It will not soon go out."

Rt. Rev. George P. Johnson

"Let the word go forth from this time and place...that the torch has been passed to a new generation of Americans."

John F. Kennedy

On November 22, 1963, President John F. Kennedy's work was finished upon this earth. Ours is not!

Shall he have died in vain? We the present and future generation will and must answer this question.

Only time will tell the greatness to which John F. Kennedy has led his nation as he predicted he would do.

"As for me, my blood already flows in sacrifice...I have fought the good fight; I have finished the race; I have redeemed the pledge: I look forward to the prize that awaits me, the prize I have earned. The Lord, Whose award never goes amiss, will grant it to me; to me, yes, and to all those who have learned to welcome his coming."

St. Paul to St. Timothy

TOO LATE

He offered me advice,
I would not listen.
He offered me his strength,
I did not need it.
He offered me his courage,
I refused.
He offered me his humility,
But I was humble.
He offered me his hand,
I needed no one.
He offered me his life,
I accepted. I reached,
But he was gone.

Our class symbolized what an ideal all around group should be. Following our motto, "Without Labor Nothing Prospers," we worked hard to achieve this ideal. We were neither extremists, nor indifferentists, nor did we follow the middle road. Outstanding in good, absent in bad, gay in spirit, and stalwart in example we were one of the most colorful classes K.H.S. has ever seen.

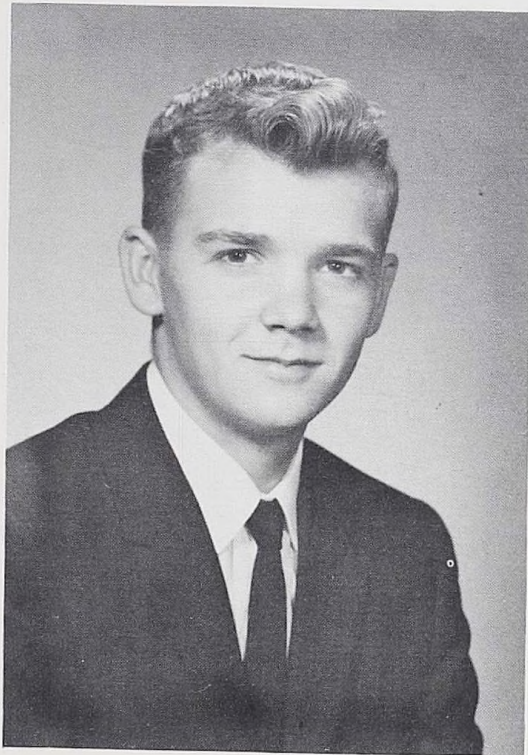

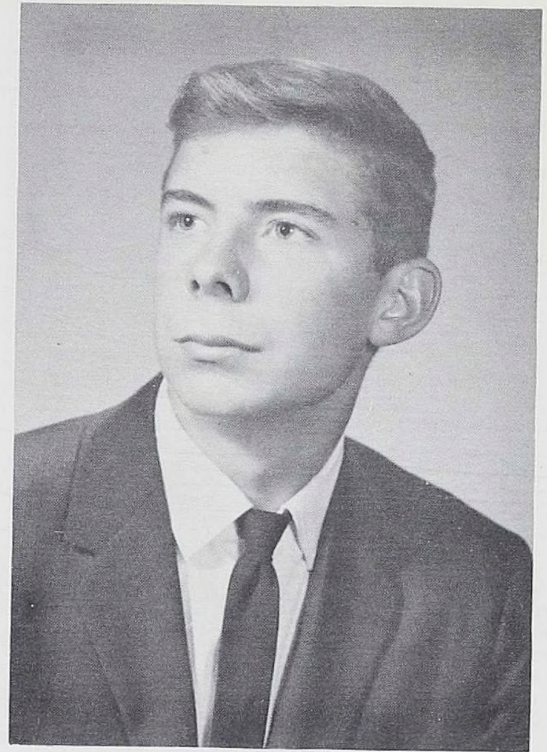

When we leave our classes for the last time we shall continue to follow the course we have chosen. There will be a great diversity in the vocations we choose but the spirit of hard work and high personal incentive will remain. We may not make any spectacular contribution but we shall have done our part. Our lives will be far apart but our spirits shall be as close as in our school days.
